INSTRUCTIONS

The program is recorded fast on both sides of the tape.
Type: CLOAD' ' ' ' to load the program.

A header screen will be displayed while the game is loading followed by the game itself, which will auto-run when it has been loaded.

Kilburn, Land of Sunshine. Where the jet set come to forget their cares. Where one man's Oric is another man's mainframe, and if you haven't got an Oric then you're well and truly out of the in-crowd.
Kilburn, where super tax is exchanged for syntax, where the rich display their software and the rest of us just watch. Where women with huge @!!. We interrupt this travelogue to explain that the Kilburn described here has no connection with the London suburb of the same name. In fact the Kilburn in London is quite the opposite, the streets are dull and grimy, it rains all the time and if you haven't got an umbrella then you're well and truly wet. Where you're more likely to get Fish and Chips than Caviare and if you haven't got a bus pass then you're easy prey for any mugger with an hour to spare. Where women with enormous @!!. I'm sorry but I must interrupt this interruption.
The Kilburn described here bears no relation to the Kilburn in this game, which incidentally you type CLOAD "" to load and is recorded fast on both sides of the tape. To be quite honest I never wanted to do this. I wanted to be a programmer
